

Film Oxford at JYC

Poster design

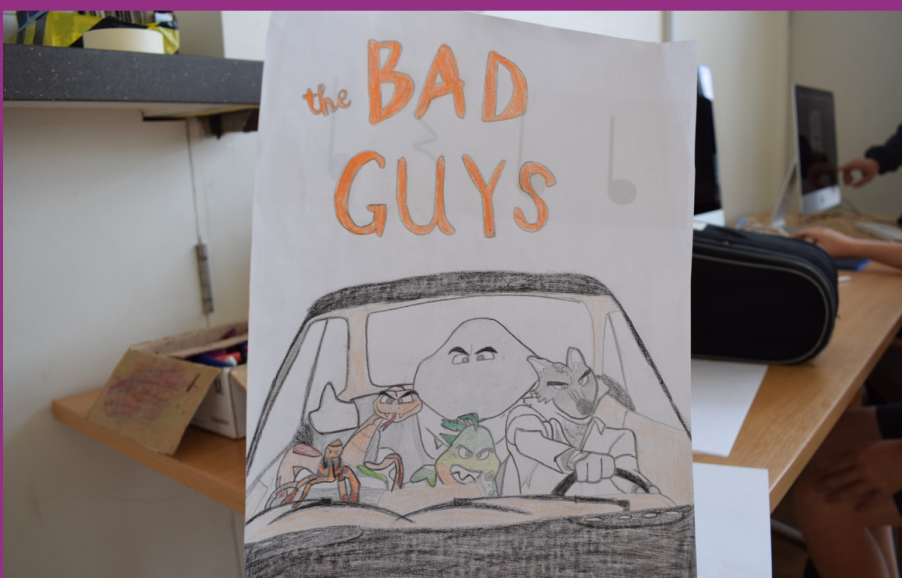

film oxford

Film Oxford worked with children at our junior youth clubs, teaching them how to design posters using Photoshop.

The children designed their own posters to advertise the free community outdoor cinema, held at the end of the school term.

The posters were printed and laminated and the children got to put the posters up around the community the following week!

It was great to see them having a lot of fun and taking pride in their poster designs!

Summer film club

film oxford

Funded by The National Lottery Community Fund (Awards for all), Film Oxford and Rose Hill Junior Youth club launched a free 8 day summer filmmaking club for ages 7-16, at the beginning of the summer holidays.

18 children took part in the club, building friendships and learning new skills like storyboarding, filming, editing, making music, marketing and design.

The children created their own film which was shown during a free community film event during August.

You can also watch the final film by scanning the QR code or visit: Film Oxford showcase on YouTube.

The children had a lot of fun dressing up, creating their own stories, acting and dancing!

Feedback from the children:

"I liked being the cameraman and helping others."

"I really liked using the green screen for the first time!"

"I liked interviewing people at the community larder!"

"Film club is great, I had a great day!"

"I really liked today since we got to do editing."

"I loved spending time with new friends."

"I liked everything, especially making music."

"I liked dancing and doing the camera work."

"I liked dancing and doing gymnastics."

"I loved everything, I'm sad it's over."

"We had a lot of fun!"

"I loved all of it!"

The children also learned how to make music using GarageBand. They enjoyed creating their own beats and editing them together to make soundtracks for their film.

They also enjoyed a free family film afterwards

During the last week, the children learned how to use Premiere Pro and Canva.

They spent time learning how to edit, they also created film posters, animations and artwork to go into the final film.

Creative Lights Festival planning

Rose Hill Junior Youth club and Film Oxford will once again be hosting the Creative Lights Festival at Rose Hill Community centre in November.

Supported by Oxford City Council and Oxfordshire County Council, the event will offer free digital and creative activities for the local community.

Our theme is the Ocean, and we have asked families to donate their plastic bottles to us, so that we can build two giant whale lanterns with the children and young people at JYC. We will be using art to raise awareness of plastic pollution, and how it can effect marine life. We will also be taking the lanterns on a parade around Rose Hill, to showcase what we have all built together.

Plastic Bottle Collection

Dear families,
Please join us in collecting plastic bottles, big or small, clear or colourful, for our next community project!

In collaboration with Film Oxford, supported by Oxford City Council, we will once again be hosting the Creative Lights Festival and Lantern Parade in Rose Hill, on Saturday 18th November!

This years theme is the Ocean and with help from local artist Mani (@thebigorangem) and our children at JYC, we will be building a giant whale lantern made from plastic bottles, which will be displayed at the event and in the community.

If you would like to donate your plastic bottles, please ensure they have been washed out.

Please drop bottles off to JYC staff on any youth club day, on Wednesdays or Thursdays between 2:15pm-6pm at Rose Hill Community centre.

Wednesday 4th, 11th, 18th Oct
1st, 8th, 15th Nov

Thursday 5th, 12th, 19th Oct
9th, 16th Nov

HELP US!

You do not need to be a member of JYC in order to donate your bottles! Just come along!

Lantern making at JYC

During October and November, our children and young people had the opportunity to create a gigantic whale lantern using willow, coloured paper, plastic and lights!

Local artist Mani, supported by Film Oxford and Oxford City Council, spent three weeks at JYC creating this magnificent structure.

The children loved climbing into the belly of the whale, pretending they had been eaten! They got stuck in with cutting, taping and tying, and had lots of fun bringing the materials to life.

Family lantern making

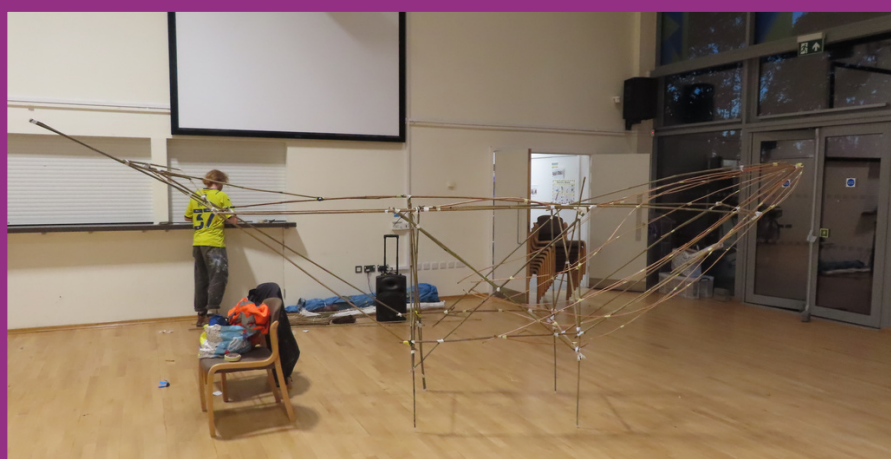

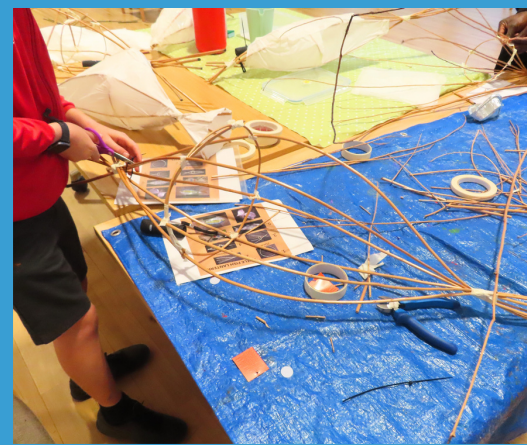

On Wednesday 4th November, we held a free family lantern making session.

Over 45 people came along to make lanterns and ocean themed arts & crafts.

We gave out free food and laid out free donations of clothes, shoes and baby items for families to take home.

Families had a great time, it was great to see everyone sat together, making new friends and being creative.

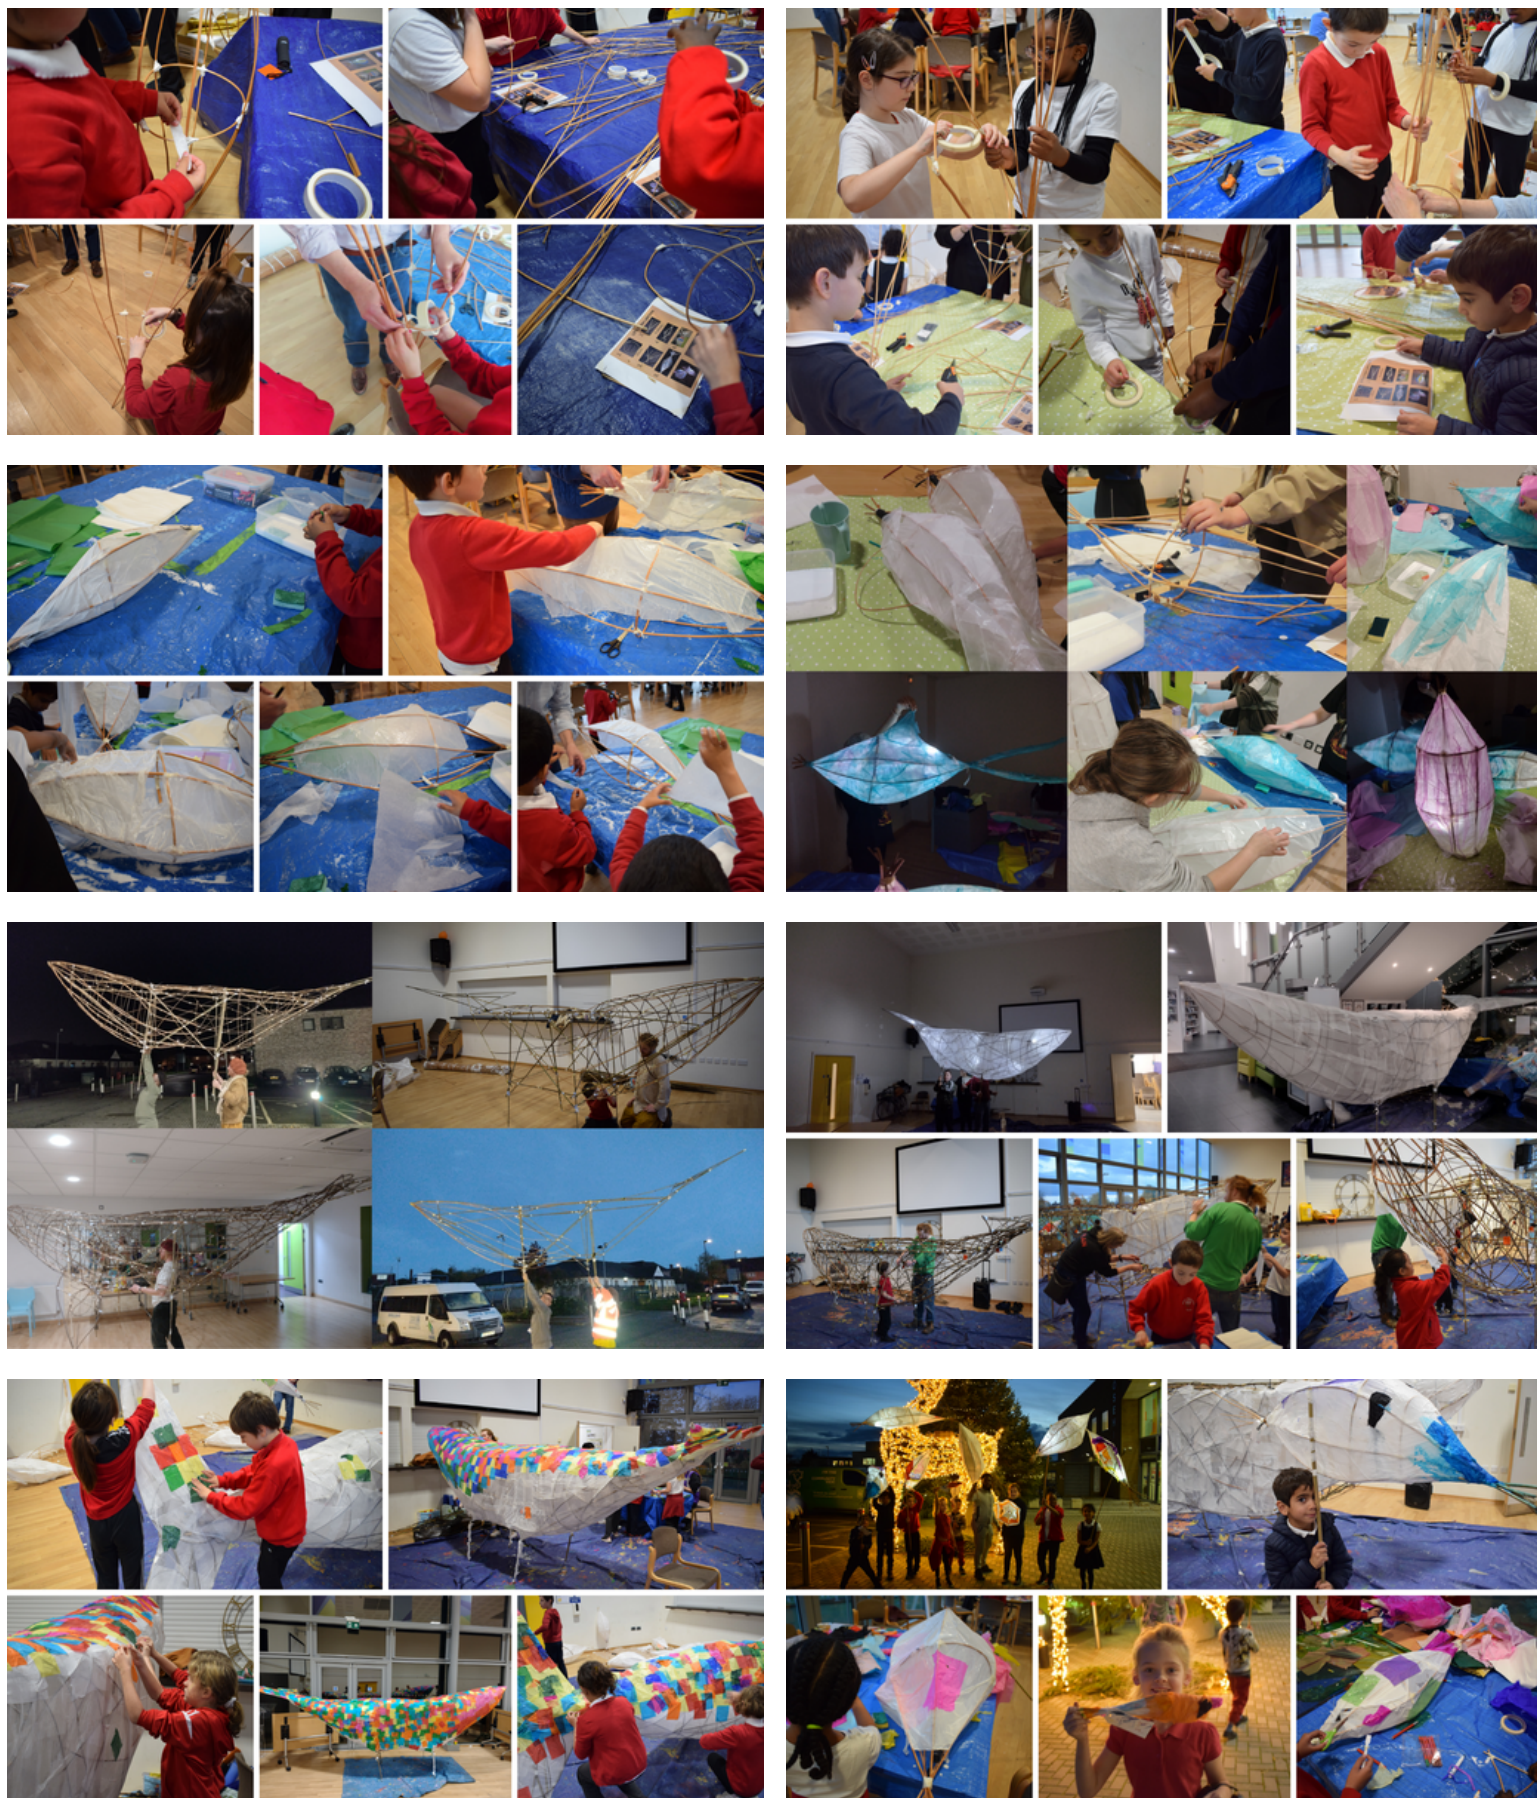

We also encouraged families to come along to the Creative Lights Festival, which took place a couple of weeks later.

Creative Lights Festival

On Saturday 18th November, over 500 people attended the magical Creative Lights Festival, organised by Film Oxford & RHJYC, at Rose Hill Community centre.

On the day, local people enjoyed lots of free creative activities, from music and animation, to headdress making with Oxford City Farm, arts and crafts with RHJYC, lantern making & swimming on a whale thanks to green screen special effects!

Horns of Plenty led over 250 people on the lantern procession around Rose Hill, with local residents joining us on their doorsteps.

This event was supported by Oxford City Council, Oxfordshire County Council, Feltham Construction and Doris Field Charitable Trust.

CLF competition

This year, our festival was ocean themed and plastic bottles were donated by local residents and incorporated into the design of the whale lanterns.

We wanted to raise awareness of the effects of plastic pollution on our oceans through art.

Rose Hill & Iffley Low Carbon, supported by JYC, ran a poster design competition around this theme, and the winner was:

Nikkita Pitson, aged 11

Nikkita won a £10 voucher for her design and her poster was displayed locally, congratulations!
